Define | Discover | Design

The 3D Professional Coach Certification program is designed to facilitate the skills needed for professional coaching. Deep coaching abilities, mentoring and self-awareness are the key components focused on to help a coach find within themselves what they need to best serve others.

The goal of this program is to have students confidently coaching at the level of an ICF credentialed Professional Certified Coach.

Recognizing that similar to each client, each student is whole, capable and resourceful, this program focuses on authenticity and ability.

The way of being of the coach is a primary centre of attention of this training, combined with learning the simple and functional 3D Model for the doing of coaching.

Experiential and engaged classroom structure allows each student to bring all of who they are to co-create coaching conversations that honour the coach's capacity and experience.

Drawing on the current research on the science of coaching, this program explores possibilities for the development of a successful coaching practice and to build the capacity and techniques for those coaching internally within their organizations.

Students will leave with a comprehensive understanding of how to coach and how to build a business in coaching.
